St. John's Priory. Chester is one of the oldest towns in the United Kingdom, it being built on the site of an old Roman camp which was the centre of operations for the Twentieth Legion in A.D. 60. The foundation of St. John's dates from the end of the seventh century, and at one time was the cathedral church of the diocese of Chester, Lichfield and Coventry. It has undergone great vicissitudes during various periods by portions of the building being destroyed.
